

FAQs

Where do I get the Vehicle Registration number?

This will be detailed on your Bluecycle paperwork, including Release Note and Order.

Where do I get the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN)?

The VIN will be stamped on the vehicle.

The online CoD process asks for a check digit, how can I get this when I do not have the Log Book?

You do not need it, just put "*" in the check digit box and this will allow the CoD to go through.

I have to put a name and address in for the last keeper but I do not know the last owner's name, what should I do?

Use Bluecycle's details: Bluecycle, Union House, 182-194 Union Street, London, SE1 0LH.

Why is Bluecycle asking for the CoD within one month of the vehicle being purchased, I will not strip it out in that time?

You are buying a Category B vehicle that is to be dismantled and the structure destroyed; it will not be going back on the road. In exactly the same way as you would treat a vehicle delivered by a member of the public, you can issue a CoD immediately after the vehicle arrives at your yard. You can then take as long as you want to strip the vehicle for parts.

What should I do with the CoD once I have completed it?

Please retain it for your records as it could be subject to a further audit one month after you have submitted the details to Bluecycle, or during a regular site visit by Bluecycle staff.

I do not have access to DVLA on-line; whom do I need to approach?

Only DVLA can give you access. As soon as your ELV licence was issued the Environment Agency passed your details to DVLA, who should have then made contact with you. If in doubt, please contact your local Environment Agency office and DVLA.

Some vehicles do not get a certificate number, what should I do?

Correct, some motorbikes and trucks are not included in the Certificate of Destruction process, and get issued with a Notification of Destruction. Continue to enter the details into the DVLA online service as you would for any vehicle, once the destruction has been confirmed, go into the Statistics page on DVLA online, search for the registration number and then print the page (example shown below). Once printed, please fax a copy to our Reputation Manager on 0207 691 9385
